

Trapper Dave Night

It was standing room only at the Cabre Gymnasium as throngs of students, staff and community members gathered to honor our very own Trapper Dave Fink. A halftime ceremony during the men's game included a slide show and Dave was presented a plaque and new bicycle which he promptly rode out of the gym to a thunderous applause. The Trapper Dave Scholarship, which will be awarded to the most inspirational male and female athlete for their sophomore year, was featured throughout the evening as another way to honor the legacy of Trapper Dave. It was a night to celebrate three decades worth of memories for this Northwest College sports icon and one we most certainly won't forget.

Submit your Class Note

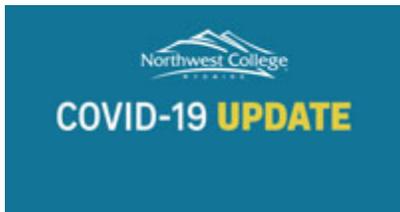

NWC alumni: we want to know what you're up to! The notes are a way to share news with your fellow Northwest College Alumni. Whether you got a new job, got married, or received a promotion, we want to hear about it to share in our new alumni publication.

We are NWC - Faculty Feature -

Often found working quietly in his office, Neil Waite describes himself as someone who prefers to stay behind the scenes and out of the spotlight. However, as an assistant professor of mathematics, he's made a huge impression, positively impacting hundreds of students during his 25-year career at Northwest College.
