

We are Forever Trappers

NWC's graduation numbers (363 degrees and certificates earned by 258 graduates) are impressive this year, but perhaps the most impressive—certainly the most surprising—2018 Commencement Exercises stat is the unusually high percentage of graduates who chose to participate in the ceremony—a whopping 96%, nearly 20% higher than in recent years. Speaking of impressive, check out your alma mater's major accomplishments throughout the year highlighted in NWC's 2017-18 Annual Report.

Not many people can pinpoint their passion as a child, but that's precisely what Northwest College alumnus Russell Walks did one chilly Saturday afternoon after being deeply inspired by George Lucas' "Star Wars." Today, his designs/illustrations have become prominent images for Paramount, Time/Warner, Disney and many others. Read on to learn more about Walks, his career and advice to current Trappers.

At your alma mater, we're proud of our alumni, and we're excited to share your stories and successes. Many of our alumni stand out for their achievements, service to their community or for being enthusiastic advocates for the college.
